

Mastering Event Management for Public Relations Professionals Training Course

15 - 19 Jun 2026

Paris

5700 € (Per Person)

Ref: #PR8824_493541

Course Introduction / Overview:

For public relations professionals, events are more than just gatherings; they're powerful strategic tools for building brand awareness, engaging stakeholders, and creating memorable experiences. This comprehensive course, offered by BIG BEN Training Center, is designed to give you a strong understanding of event management from a PR perspective. We'll cover the full life cycle of an event, from initial concept and planning to execution, promotion, and post-event analysis. We will also look at the work of academic experts like Joe Goldblatt, a pioneer in the field of event management, and draw on concepts from his book "Special Events: The Art and Science of Celebration." We focus on how to plan and execute events that align with your communication goals and generate positive media coverage. The program includes topics like managing media access, creating compelling event content, and handling unexpected challenges with grace. You'll leave with the knowledge to manage everything from press conferences and product launches to corporate galas and community fundraisers, ensuring every event you plan strengthens your organization's reputation and delivers real value.

Target Audience / This training course is suitable for:

- Public relations managers and specialists.
- Corporate communications professionals.
- Event managers and coordinators working with PR teams.
- Marketing and brand managers.
- Spokespeople and public information officers.
- Fundraising and development staff in non-profits.
- Senior executives who oversee event strategies.

Target Sectors and Industries:

- Corporate and private businesses.
- Public relations and marketing agencies.
- Non-profit organizations and NGOs.
- Government agencies and public sector.
- Hospitality and entertainment.
- Healthcare and education.
- Financial and consulting services.

Target Organizations Departments:

- Public Relations and Corporate Communications.
- Marketing and Brand Management.
- Event Planning and Management.
- Sales and Business Development.
- Fundraising and Development.
- Community Relations.
- Executive Office.

Course Offerings:

By the end of this course, the participants will have able to:

- Plan, manage, and execute successful events from a strategic perspective.
- Create events that effectively communicate brand messages and engage key audiences.
- Develop a comprehensive event plan, including budgeting and risk assessment.
- Secure and manage media coverage before, during, and after an event.
- Use social media and digital platforms to promote events and create buzz.
- Handle crisis communication and unexpected challenges during live events.
- Measure the return on investment (ROI) and overall success of an event.
- Integrate event management into a broader public relations strategy.

Course Methodology:

Our training is built on a practical, hands-on approach that gets you ready for the real-world challenges of event management. We go beyond theoretical concepts, using a mix of case studies and practical exercises. Participants will analyze successful events from major brands and find out the key elements that made them work. You will also participate in a capstone project, where you will be tasked with planning a hypothetical event from start to finish, including creating a budget, timeline, and media plan. This helps you to use the skills you've learned throughout the week. BIG BEN Training Center's instructors, who are seasoned event and PR professionals, provide real-time feedback and guidance. We also use interactive sessions, where you can role-play scenarios like managing a crisis at an event or giving a press conference. The program includes workshops on using event planning software, managing vendor relationships, and creating event-specific digital content, giving you the skills, you need to become a skilled event planner.

Course Agenda (Course Units):

Unit One: Strategic Event Planning and Concept Development

- Understanding the role of events in a PR strategy.
- Defining your event's goals and target audience.
- Developing a compelling event concept and theme.
- Creating a realistic budget and timeline.
- Identifying and managing key stakeholders and vendors.
- The legal and ethical considerations of event planning.
- Measuring event success from a PR perspective.

Unit Two: Event Logistics and Operational Excellence

- The details of site selection and venue contracts.
- Planning for security, safety, and risk management.
- Managing event registration and guest experience.
- The importance of a detailed event day schedule.
- Coordinating with vendors, speakers, and performers.
- Troubleshooting common event-day challenges.
- Post-event evaluation and reporting.

Unit Three: Media Relations for Events

- Creating a media outreach plan for your event.
- Drafting compelling press releases and media alerts.
- Building a media list and managing journalist invitations.
- Setting up a media check-in and media workspace.
- Conducting a successful press conference.
- Using photo and video opportunities to your advantage.
- Following up with media to secure coverage.

Unit Four: Digital and Social Media for Events

- Using social media to promote your event before it starts.
- Creating a hashtag and a social media campaign.
- Live-tweeting and sharing content during the event.
- Engaging with attendees and responding to questions.
- Using digital tools for live streaming and virtual events.
- Analyzing social media engagement and sentiment.
- Leveraging user-generated content for post-event promotion.

Unit Five: The Future of Event PR

- The importance of creating a compelling event experience.
- The use of event technology and emerging trends.
- Planning for and managing virtual and hybrid events.
- The role of data and analytics in event management.
- Leveraging events to build a long-term community.
- The link between events and brand reputation.
- Career paths in event management and PR.

FAQ:

Qualifications required for registering to this course?

There are no requirements.

How long is each daily session, and what is the total number of training hours for the course?

This training course spans five days, with daily sessions ranging between 4 to 5 hours, including breaks and interactive activities, bringing the total duration to 20 - 25 training hours.

Something to think about:

How can a public relations professional ensure that an event, while being a memorable experience for attendees, also effectively serves the organization's strategic communication goals and not just as a one-off spectacle?

What unique qualities does this course offer compared to other courses?

This training course is different because it's created specifically for public relations professionals, treating events not as isolated projects but as integral parts of a larger communication strategy. While many event planning courses focus on logistics, this program emphasizes how to use events to build brand reputation and generate positive media coverage. We give you a complete understanding of how to manage all aspects of an event, from the early planning stages to post-event analysis. The course is highly practical, using real-world case studies and hands-on exercises to help you apply what you've learned. Our instructors are seasoned experts who know what it takes to plan an event that is not only a success in its own right but also a valuable tool for your organization's PR efforts. This course is for anyone who wants to turn a simple event into a powerful communication tool.