Strategic Stakeholder and Public Relations Management Training Course

25 - 29 Oct 2026

Amman

3800 € (Per Person)

Ref: #GOV2431_226849

Course Introduction / Overview:

In today's interconnected world, an organization's success is intrinsically linked to its ability to build and maintain strong relationships with its stakeholders. This intensive training course provides a comprehensive framework for mastering the dual disciplines of strategic stakeholder engagement and public relations management. Moving beyond traditional media relations, this program delves into the nuanced art of identifying, analyzing, and communicating with diverse stakeholder groups to foster trust, manage reputation, and achieve organizational objectives. Drawing upon foundational theories, such as the excellence theory in public relations developed by academic James E. Grunig, participants will learn to create proactive and responsive communication strategies. The principles discussed in influential texts like "Effective Public Relations" by Cutlip, Center, and Broom will be integrated into practical, real-world applications. BIG BEN Training Center has designed this course to equip professionals with the strategic foresight and tactical skills necessary to navigate complex communication landscapes, manage crises effectively, and demonstrate the tangible value of public relations to the bottom line. This is a definitive program for anyone seeking to lead communication efforts with confidence and strategic acumen.

Target Audience / This training course is suitable for:

- Public Relations Professionals and Managers.
- Corporate Communications Specialists.
- Stakeholder Relations and Engagement Officers.
- Marketing and Brand Managers.
- Project and Program Managers.
- Government Affairs and Public Policy Advisors.
- Community Relations Coordinators.
- Senior Executives and Business Leaders.
- Non-Profit and NGO Leaders.
- Investor Relations Professionals.

Target Sectors and Industries:

- Corporate and Private Sector Enterprises.
- Government Ministries and Public Sector Agencies.
- Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) and Non-Profits.
- Healthcare and Pharmaceutical Industries.
- Technology and Telecommunications Sector.
- Banking, Finance, and Insurance Services.
- Energy, Oil, and Gas Industries.
- Consulting and Professional Services Firms.
- Education and Academic Institutions.
- Real Estate and Construction Sector.

Target Organizations Departments:

- Public Relations Department.
- Corporate Communications Department.
- Marketing and Sales Department.
- Project Management Office (PMO).
- Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Department.
- Human Resources Department.
- Investor Relations Department.
- Legal and Compliance Department.
- Executive Management and Leadership Offices.
- Customer Service and Relations Department.

Course Offerings:

By the end of this course, the participants will have able to:

- Develop a comprehensive stakeholder analysis and mapping framework.
- Design and implement strategic public relations campaigns aligned with business goals.
- Master the art of crafting compelling key messages for diverse audiences.
- Build and maintain positive relationships with media and key influencers.
- Create a proactive crisis communication plan to protect organizational reputation.
- Manage internal communications to foster employee engagement and advocacy.
- Measure the effectiveness and ROI of public relations and engagement activities.
- Apply ethical principles to all public relations and stakeholder interactions.
- Leverage digital and social media for enhanced stakeholder communication.
- Navigate complex public affairs and community relations challenges.

Course Methodology:

This training course from BIG BEN Training Center employs a dynamic and interactive learning methodology focused on practical application and skill mastery. The program is built around a blend of expert-led presentations, in-depth case study analyses of real-world successes and failures, and collaborative group workshops. Participants will engage in hands-on exercises, including stakeholder mapping simulations, crisis communication role-playing, and the development of a strategic PR plan for a hypothetical organization. Emphasis is placed on peer-to-peer learning through facilitated discussions and brainstorming sessions, allowing attendees to share experiences and gain diverse perspectives. The training incorporates practical toolkits, templates, and checklists that participants can immediately apply in their professional roles. Continuous feedback from the instructor ensures that learning is reinforced and individual challenges are addressed. This immersive approach guarantees that participants leave not just with theoretical knowledge, but with the confidence and competence to execute effective stakeholder engagement and public relations strategies.

Course Agenda (Course Units):

Unit One: Foundations of Strategic Communication

- The modern role of public relations beyond media relations.
- Introduction to stakeholder theory and its importance.
- Identifying, segmenting, and prioritizing key stakeholders.
- Conducting a comprehensive stakeholder analysis and mapping.
- Understanding the models of public relations by Grunig and Hunt.
- Aligning PR and stakeholder strategies with organizational objectives.
- Ethical considerations and professional standards in public relations.

Unit Two: Strategic Public Relations Planning and Execution

- Setting SMART objectives for PR campaigns.
- Developing powerful key messages and narratives.
- Crafting a comprehensive strategic communication plan.
- Fundamentals of media relations and building press relationships.
- Writing effective press releases, media kits, and pitches.
- Planning and managing successful press conferences and media events.
- Budgeting and resource allocation for PR initiatives.

Unit three: Mastering Stakeholder Engagement and Relations

- Techniques for effective stakeholder dialogue and consultation.
- Managing stakeholder expectations and navigating conflicting interests.
- Strategies for building long-term community relations.
- The role of internal communications in creating brand ambassadors.
- Developing and communicating Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) programs.
- Managing government relations and public affairs.
- Building and managing strategic partnerships and alliances.

Unit Four: Crisis Communication and Reputation Management

- Proactive crisis planning and vulnerability assessment.
- Forming and training a crisis communication team.
- Developing a crisis communication response plan.
- Managing media and stakeholder communication during a crisis.
- Leveraging digital channels for real-time crisis response.
- Online reputation management and monitoring.
- Post-crisis analysis and reputation recovery strategies.

Unit Five: Measurement, Digital PR, and Future Trends

- Methods for measuring PR effectiveness and impact.
- Key performance indicators (KPIs) for stakeholder engagement.
- Calculating the return on investment (ROI) of PR activities.
- Integrating digital PR and social media into communication strategy.
- The role of influencers and digital content creators.
- Future trends in public relations and stakeholder management.
- Developing a personal action plan for continuous improvement.

FAQ:

Qualifications required for registering to this course?

There are no requirements.

How long is each daily session, and what is the total number of training hours for the course?

This training course spans five days, with daily sessions ranging between 4 to 5 hours, including breaks and interactive activities, bringing the total duration to 20 - 25 training hours.

Something to think about:

In an era of hyper-transparency and digital activism, how can organizations authentically balance the competing interests of diverse stakeholders without compromising their core business objectives?

What unique qualities does this course offer compared to other courses?

This course distinguishes itself by offering a holistic and integrated approach that seamlessly merges the foundational principles of public relations with the dynamic practice of modern stakeholder engagement. Unlike programs that treat these as separate functions, this curriculum is built on the premise that sustainable success is only possible when both are strategically aligned. We move beyond theoretical discussions to provide a deeply practical and actionable learning experience, emphasizing simulation-based learning, including a comprehensive crisis communication drill that prepares participants for high-stakes scenarios. The content is meticulously structured to build skills progressively, from stakeholder analysis and mapping to the advanced measurement of PR ROI. Furthermore, the course places a strong emphasis on ethical decision-making and the strategic management of corporate social responsibility, equipping leaders not just to communicate effectively but to build genuine, lasting trust. Participants will leave with a sophisticated understanding of how to create shared value, manage reputation proactively, and position communication as a core driver of organizational strategy.