Cross-Cultural Intelligence and Global Business Relations Training Course

06 - 10 Dec 2026

Amman

3800 € (Per Person)

Ref: #IS8958_204066

Course Introduction / Overview:

In an increasingly interconnected world, the ability to navigate diverse cultural landscapes is no longer a luxury but a necessity for global business success. This Cross-Cultural Intelligence and Global Business Relations Training Course, offered by BIG BEN Training Center, is meticulously designed to equip professionals with the essential skills and insights needed to thrive in international environments. Participants will delve into the intricacies of cultural intelligence, understanding how cultural values impact communication, negotiation, and leadership across borders. The program emphasizes developing a global mindset, fostering cultural sensitivity, and mastering international business communication best practices. We explore frameworks from renowned academics like Erin Meyer, author of "The Culture Map: Breaking Through the Invisible Boundaries of Global Business," to provide practical tools for decoding cultural differences and building effective global relationships. This course is crucial for anyone involved in global strategic partnerships, international business development, or managing diverse teams globally. It addresses the challenges of cross-cultural management, offering strategies for cultural adaptation and conflict resolution in a multicultural business context. By enhancing intercultural competence development, BIG BEN Training Center ensures participants are prepared for successful global market entry strategies and sustained international business growth.

Target Audience / This training course is suitable for:

- International Business Development Managers.
- Global Project Managers.
- Expatriate Professionals.
- Human Resources Professionals with global responsibilities.
- Sales and Marketing Professionals targeting international markets.
- Diplomats and Government Agency Representatives.
- Senior Executives and Leaders in multinational corporations.
- Anyone involved in cross-border business operations.
- Professionals seeking to enhance their global leadership skills.
- Individuals working in multicultural teams.

Target Sectors and Industries:

- Multinational Corporations.
- International Trade and Export Agencies.
- Consulting Firms with global clients.
- Technology and IT Companies.
- Financial Services and Banking.
- Manufacturing and Supply Chain.
- Hospitality and Tourism.
- Government Agencies and Equivalents.
- Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs).
- Education and Research Institutions.

Target Organizations Departments:

- International Relations Department.
- Human Resources Department.
- Global Sales and Marketing Department.
- Business Development Department.
- Project Management Office.
- Strategy and Planning Department.
- Legal and Compliance Department.
- Operations Department.
- Executive Leadership.
- Training and Development Department.

Course Offerings:

By the end of this course, the participants will have able to:

- Develop a profound understanding of cultural intelligence and its application in global business relations.
- Master effective cross-cultural communication skills for diverse international settings.
- Navigate complex international business negotiation strategies with confidence.
- Cultivate a global mindset to enhance decision-making in multicultural environments.
- Implement cultural adaptation strategies for successful expatriate assignments and global team dynamics.
- Identify and mitigate cross-cultural management challenges within global organizations.
- Build and sustain strong global strategic partnerships and international business development initiatives.
- Apply principles of global business etiquette and protocol in various cultural contexts.
- Enhance cultural sensitivity and awareness to foster inclusive global workplaces.
- Lead and manage diverse teams globally, improving collaboration and productivity.

Course Methodology:

This Cross-Cultural Intelligence and Global Business Relations Training Course employs a highly interactive and experiential methodology, designed to facilitate deep learning and practical application. BIG BEN Training Center believes in a participant-centric approach, integrating a variety of training methods to cater to diverse learning styles. The course will feature engaging case studies drawn from real-world global business scenarios, allowing participants to analyze complex cross-cultural management challenges and develop effective solutions. Group discussions and teamwork activities will encourage collaborative problem-solving and the sharing of diverse perspectives, fostering a rich learning environment. Role-playing exercises will provide hands-on experience in international business negotiation strategies and cross-cultural communication skills, enabling participants to practice new techniques in a safe setting. Interactive sessions, including simulations and cultural intelligence assessments, will ensure active participation and immediate feedback. This dynamic approach, combined with expert facilitation, ensures that participants not only grasp theoretical concepts but also gain practical skills for building global relationships and navigating international markets effectively.

Course Agenda (Course Units):

Unit One: Foundations of Cross-Cultural Intelligence

- Understanding the concept of cultural intelligence (CQ).
- The dimensions of culture: Hofstede's and Trompenaars' frameworks.
- Impact of cultural values on global business relations.
- Developing a global mindset and cultural awareness in the workplace.
- Assessing personal cultural intelligence and identifying development areas.
- The role of cultural sensitivity in international business communication.
- Overcoming ethnocentrism and cultural biases.

Unit Two: Cross-Cultural Communication and Collaboration

- Mastering effective cross-cultural communication skills.
- Verbal and non-verbal communication across cultures.
- High-context versus low-context communication styles.
- Strategies for clear and unambiguous international business communication.
- Building trust and rapport in multicultural teams.
- Leading global virtual teams and managing diverse teams globally.
- Conflict resolution in cross-cultural settings.

Unit Three: Global Business Etiquette and Negotiation Strategies

- Understanding global business etiquette and protocol.
- Cultural nuances in business meetings and social interactions.
- International business negotiation strategies and tactics.
- Adapting negotiation styles to different cultural contexts.
- Building consensus and managing expectations across cultures.
- Ethical considerations in global business ethics training.
- Developing persuasive communication for international audiences.

Unit Four: Cultural Adaptation and Global Leadership

- Strategies for cultural adaptation and expatriate success.
- Managing cultural shock and fostering resilience.
- Developing cultural intelligence for global leaders.
- Leading change in multicultural organizations.
- Global talent management and diversity in business.
- Building effective global strategic partnerships.
- Understanding global market entry strategies and cultural due diligence.

Unit Five: Sustaining Global Business Relations and Future Trends

- Leveraging cultural intelligence for sustained international business development.
- Innovating across cultures and fostering creativity in diverse teams.
- Measuring the impact of cultural competence in international trade.
- Future trends in cross-cultural management and global business.
- Developing a personal action plan for continuous intercultural competence development.
- Case studies in global business success and failure.
- The evolving landscape of global business communication.

FAQ:

Qualifications required for registering to this course?

There are no requirements.

How long is each daily session, and what is the total number of training hours for the course?

This training course spans five days, with daily sessions ranging between 4 to 5 hours, including breaks and interactive activities, bringing the total duration to 20 - 25 training hours.

Something to think about

In what ways does a leader's personal cultural intelligence directly influence the success or failure of global strategic partnerships, and how can this be proactively developed beyond theoretical understanding?

What unique qualities does this course offer compared to other courses?

This Cross-Cultural Intelligence and Global Business Relations Training Course distinguishes itself through its deeply practical and academically informed approach, moving beyond superficial cultural tips to foster genuine intercultural competence development. Unlike many programs that offer generic advice, BIG BEN Training Center's course integrates cutting-edge research and frameworks from leading scholars like Erin Meyer, providing participants with a robust analytical toolkit for decoding complex cultural dynamics. We focus on developing a profound global mindset, not just an awareness of differences, but the ability to strategically adapt and thrive in diverse international markets. The emphasis is on real-world application through extensive case studies, interactive simulations, and role-playing scenarios that mirror actual global business challenges, such as international business negotiation strategies and cross-cultural communication skills. Participants will gain actionable insights into building global relationships, managing diverse teams globally, and navigating the nuances of global business etiquette. This course cultivates a transformative learning experience, empowering professionals to become truly effective global leaders who can drive international business development and foster successful global strategic partnerships.