26 - 30 OCT 2026

KUALA LUMPUR

5200 € (PER PERSON)

REF: #PR2599_135013

COURSE INTRODUCTION / OVERVIEW:

The landscape of public relations and media has been irrevocably altered by digital transformation, demanding a new breed of professional adept at navigating this complex ecosystem. This course provides a comprehensive exploration of modern PR and media strategies, moving beyond traditional practices to embrace the full potential of digital platforms. We will delve into the core principles that govern effective online communication, from strategic content creation to data-driven campaign measurement. Drawing upon the foundational concepts discussed by academics like James E. Grunig on two-way symmetrical communication and the practical applications outlined in books such as "The New Rules of Marketing & PR" by David Meerman Scott, this program bridges theory and practice. Participants will learn to build and protect brand reputation in a 24/7 news cycle, leverage social media for meaningful engagement, and utilize analytics to demonstrate tangible value. BIG BEN Training Center has designed this curriculum to equip professionals with the foresight and skills necessary to lead successful communication initiatives, ensuring they can craft compelling narratives, manage digital crises, and build lasting stakeholder relationships in an increasingly interconnected world. This is an A-to-Z guide for mastering the art and science of digital public relations.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT:

Reflection Question: How can public relations professionals ethically leverage AI and data analytics to build authentic relationships with stakeholders without compromising privacy and trust?

WHAT UNIQUE QUALITIES DOES THIS COURSE OFFER COMPARED TO OTHER COURSES?

This course distinguishes itself by providing a holistic and strategic perspective on digital public relations, moving beyond a superficial overview of tools and platforms. While many programs focus on the "how-to" of specific social media channels, our curriculum emphasizes the "why" behind every action, grounding practical skills in established communication theory and strategic business objectives. We focus on cultivating a data-driven mindset, teaching participants not just how to gather metrics, but how to interpret them to derive actionable insights and demonstrate tangible value to leadership. The curriculum is uniquely forward-looking, with a dedicated unit on the future of PR that explores the impact of disruptive technologies like Artificial Intelligence, ensuring participants are prepared for the challenges and opportunities ahead. Furthermore, the methodology, centered on real-world case studies and collaborative problem-solving, ensures that learning is not passive. Participants leave not with a list of tactics, but with a comprehensive framework for developing, executing, and measuring sophisticated digital PR campaigns that build reputation, foster engagement, and drive organizational success.
