Cross-Cultural Communication and Business Etiquette Training Course

25 - 29 Oct 2026

Amman

3800 € (Per Person)

Ref: #PRO5668_231334

Course Introduction / Overview:

In today's interconnected global marketplace, the ability to navigate diverse cultural landscapes is no longer a soft skill but a critical business imperative. Misunderstandings arising from cultural differences can impede negotiations, damage relationships, and hinder productivity. This comprehensive training course is designed to equip professionals with the essential knowledge and practical skills to communicate, collaborate, and conduct business effectively across cultural boundaries. Drawing on principles from leading experts like Erin Meyer, author of "The Culture Map," this program delves into the nuances of international business protocol, communication styles, and cultural values. Participants will move beyond simple do's and don'ts to develop a deep sense of cultural intelligence (CQ), enabling them to adapt their approach and build trust in any international context. BIG BEN Training Center has meticulously structured this course to provide a transformative learning experience, blending established theories with real-world applications to foster a truly global mindset and enhance cross-cultural productivity from day one. This journey will empower you to turn cultural diversity into a strategic advantage for your organization.

Target Audience / This training course is suitable for:

- Executives and Senior Managers with global responsibilities.
- International Sales and Marketing Professionals.
- Human Resources and Talent Management Specialists.
- Project Managers leading multinational teams.
- Expatriate employees and their families.
- Procurement and Supply Chain Managers.
- Customer Service Representatives dealing with international clients.
- Anyone seeking to enhance their global business acumen.

Target Sectors and Industries:

- Technology and Information Technology.
- Banking, Finance, and Insurance.
- International Consulting and Professional Services.
- Manufacturing and Global Supply Chain.
- Oil, Gas, and Energy.
- Hospitality and Tourism.
- Telecommunications.
- Governmental bodies and Non-Profit Organizations.
- Pharmaceuticals and Healthcare.

Target Organizations Departments:

- International Sales and Business Development.
- Human Resources and Global Mobility.
- Executive Leadership and C-Suite.
- Marketing and Communications.
- Global Procurement and Sourcing.
- Project Management Office (PMO).
- Customer Relations and Support.
- Legal and Compliance Departments.

Course Offerings:

By the end of this course, the participants will have able to:

- Develop a high level of cultural intelligence and self-awareness.
- Master the nuances of verbal and non-verbal communication across cultures.
- Apply appropriate international business etiquette in various settings.
- Build and maintain strong professional relationships with international partners.
- Lead and motivate culturally diverse teams effectively.
- Navigate cross-cultural negotiations with confidence and skill.
- Develop strategies to avoid cultural misunderstandings and resolve conflicts.
- Adapt personal management and communication styles to different cultural contexts.
- Enhance productivity and collaboration within global teams.

Course Methodology:

The training methodology at BIG BEN Training Center is designed to be highly interactive, engaging, and practical, ensuring that participants can immediately apply their learning in a professional context. We move beyond traditional lectures to foster an environment of experiential learning. The course heavily utilizes real-world case studies, allowing participants to analyze and solve complex cross-cultural challenges faced by global organizations. Interactive group discussions and brainstorming sessions encourage the sharing of diverse perspectives and experiences. A significant portion of the training is dedicated to role-playing scenarios, which simulate common international business interactions such as meetings, negotiations, and networking events, providing a safe space to practice new skills. Participants will receive constructive feedback from both the instructor and their peers. Self-assessment tools will be used to help individuals understand their own cultural predispositions and communication styles. This blended approach of theory, practice, and reflection ensures a deep and lasting understanding of global business etiquette and cross-cultural productivity, making the learning experience both effective and memorable.

Course Agenda (Course Units):

Unit One: Foundations of Cultural Intelligence and the Global Mindset

- Defining culture and its impact on business.
- Understanding cultural layers and dimensions.
- Exploring the concept of Cultural Intelligence (CQ).
- Assessing your personal cultural profile and biases.
- Developing a global mindset for international success.
- Overcoming stereotypes and cultural assumptions.
- The link between cultural competency and business performance.

Unit Two: Mastering Cross-Cultural Communication

- Verbal communication styles across cultures.
- High-context versus low-context communication frameworks.
- The power of non-verbal cues and body language.
- Mastering active listening in a multicultural environment.
- Written communication etiquette for global audiences.
- Navigating language barriers and working with interpreters.
- Strategies for clear and effective virtual communication.

Unit Three: International Business Etiquette and Protocol

- Proper forms of greetings, introductions, and business card exchange.
- Global meeting protocols and presentation styles.
- International dining etiquette and social business customs.
- The art of gift-giving in different cultures.
- Dress codes and professional appearance worldwide.
- Punctuality and perceptions of time across cultures.
- Building rapport and trust in initial interactions.

Unit Four: Leading and Collaborating in Diverse Global Teams

- Leadership styles and expectations in different cultures.
- Motivating and managing multinational team members.
- Building cohesive and high-performing virtual teams.
- Facilitating inclusive decision-making processes.
- Managing cross-cultural conflict and disagreement constructively.
- Providing effective feedback across cultural divides.
- Fostering a culture of psychological safety in diverse teams.

Unit Five: Advanced Strategies in Global Business and Negotiation

- Adapting negotiation strategies for different cultural contexts.
- Understanding different approaches to contracts and agreements.
- Building long-term relationships and partnerships globally.
- Navigating ethical dilemmas in international business.
- Customizing marketing and sales approaches for local markets.
- Crisis communication in a global context.
- Creating a personal action plan for continuous cultural learning.

FAQ:

Qualifications required for registering to this course?

There are no requirements.

How long is each daily session, and what is the total number of training hours for the course?

This training course spans five days, with daily sessions ranging between 4 to 5 hours, including breaks and interactive activities, bringing the total duration to 20 - 25 training hours.

Something to think about:

In an era of increasing remote work and virtual teams, how do the traditional rules of business etiquette evolve to maintain effective cross-cultural collaboration?

What unique qualities does this course offer compared to other courses?

This course distinguishes itself by moving beyond a theoretical overview of cultural differences to provide a deeply practical and strategic framework for enhancing business productivity. While many programs focus on a list of cultural do's and don'ts, our curriculum integrates the core principles of cultural intelligence directly with measurable business outcomes like improved negotiation results, team efficiency, and stronger client relationships. We emphasize a situational approach, teaching participants not just what to do, but how to analyze any new cultural context and adapt their strategy accordingly. The methodology is rooted in immersive, scenario-based learning that forces participants to apply concepts in realistic business simulations, from leading a challenging virtual team meeting to navigating a complex international negotiation. Furthermore, the course content is continuously updated to reflect the latest trends in global business, including the nuances of digital communication etiquette and the challenges of managing hybrid global teams. It is this focus on actionable skills, strategic application, and contemporary relevance that provides a uniquely powerful learning experience, equipping professionals to turn cultural diversity into a tangible competitive advantage.